RESOLUTION 2012-107 OF THE SOUTH JERSEY TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITY AUTHORIZING THE AWARD OF A CONTRACT TO UNION ROOFING CONTRACTORS, INC. OF PHILADELPHIA, PA., FOR THE EMERGENCY ROOF REPLACEMENT PROJECT AT THE ATLANTIC CITY INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

On June 30, 2012, a destructive and fast-moving storm event (Derecho), which included heavy rain and extremely high winds, caused damage to two EPDM roof surface structures at the Atlantic City International Airport. This damage was realized after a second severe storm, on July 28, 2012, when water infiltration was noticed on the ceiling of the terminal resulting in an inspection. The insurance carrier was called and on August 9, the claims adjuster from Chubb Insurance and an independent full service water proofing firm, James D. Cummins and Company came out to inspect the damage. It was determined, that the damage was a result of the earlier storm as extremely high winds were the cause of the damage. There has been significant water infiltration during rains events since this damage occurred. Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 19:2-7.7, when an emergency declared by the Executive Director or his designee exists of a nature requiring immediate services, the Authority shall, by such solicitation as it considers advisable, obtain whatever is necessary to meet the emergency on the most advantageous terms possible under the circumstances. The Acting Executive Director declared the damage to the two roof surface structures at the Atlantic City International Airport emergent and as such authorized an emergency procurement for the repair of same to prevent further damage to equipment within the building and other areas of the building. Therefore, three quotes were solicited for the Emergency Roof Replacement Project at the Atlantic City International Airport. Union Roofing Contractors, Inc. of Philadelphia, Pa. was deemed to have submitted the lowest responsive, responsible quote in an amount not to exceed Two Hundred and Forty-Five Thousand Dollars ($245,000.00). Work to be completed under this project is to replace two damaged EPDM roof surface structures.
